- Recent legislation passed by Congress which included authorization for a health insurance rebate to annuitants in the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program (FEHBP) has been vetoed by the President. Without such legislation, rebates can only be issued to active Federal employees. The veto apparently was invoked because the bill included a provision to lift the 75 percent cap on the Government contribution to the FEHBP premium. This provision was opposed by OMB as being too costly. OPM advises this is an "unexpected turn," and they must now regroup on what action is to be taken on the rebates. 25X1

- The Executive Director's Task Force on Secretaries met to review its draft final recommendations on management of the Agency secretarial occupation. The meeting focused on recommendations [REDACTED] they believed would strengthen the overall secretarial plan for the Agency. Members of the Task Force were generally receptive to the [REDACTED] recommendations. A coordinated report will be forwarded to the DCI for approval. Concurrently, the Position Management and Compensation Division/Office of Personnel and [REDACTED] will begin the final phase of the development of the Agency secretarial program by working with the Directorates to identify and develop senior secretarial positions which will form the core of the new program. 25X1

SUBJECT: Weekly Report for Period Ending 24 January 1986

1. Career Trainee Class #87 entered on duty 21 January 1986. There are ☐ trainees who will receive their training at the Chamber of Commerce Building, ☐

2. General Paul H. Gorman, USA (Ret.), has accepted the DCI's invitation to make a presentation to Agency employees in the Headquarters Auditorium on 4 March 1986 at 1400 hours. His topic is "Central America: Problems in Intelligence."

3. On 17 January, the Office of Training and Education (OTE) hosted a meeting of the Interagency Language Roundtable. The Roundtable was attended by 52 members from 15 academic and governmental institutions. Of particular interest was a report by Dr. John Clark, Center of Applied Linguistics, who summarized the results of a study that he conducted on the comparability of speaking proficiency ratings given by CIA, Foreign Service Institute, and Defense Language Institute. The report concluded that on an overall group basis there is no statistical difference across the three agencies.

5. Recent legislation passed by Congress which included authorization for a health insurance rebate to annuitants in the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program (FEHBP) has been vetoed by the President. Without such legislation, rebates can only be issued to active Federal employees. The veto was apparently invoked because the bill included a provision to lift the 75 percent cap on the Government contribution to the FEHBP premium. This provision was opposed by the Office of Management and Budget as being too costly. The Office of Personnel Management advises this is an "unexpected turn," and they must now regroup on what action is to be taken on the rebates. We will continue to monitor future activity on this subject.

6. Lee Hamilton, Chairman, House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence, has asked for a comprehensive review of Agency policy on external research contracts with academic institutions and individual academicians. Work has been initiated to research individual independent contractor files to determine which ones fall into this category and to assemble other related data regarding cost and numbers. This information will be forwarded to the Comptroller who has responsibility for coordinating the overall Agency response.

7. The Office of Personnel has received several inquiries from CIARDS annuitants regarding the recently suspended 3.1% Cost-of-Living Allowance (COLA) increase. The COLA was suspended until 1 March based on instructions from the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the Gramm-Rudman legislation. At that time, a final decision will be made on whether or not to grant COLA's in 1986. Most of the retirees accepted this explanation with little response except for their dissatisfaction with the present Administration. A notice on the COLA situation has been sent to CIARDS retirees with the recent mailings of their W-2's.

Approximately 220 prospective candidates attended these seminars where they were able to learn about the [] positions being offered in this year's program.

DCI WEEKLY REPORT
PUBLIC AFFAIRS OFFICE

Nothing new or untoward is known to be brewing in the media world at the moment. On other fronts:

25X1

+ Academic Coordinator [REDACTED] has weighed in on Chairman Hamilton's recent demand for more information on the Agency's relations with academe, which OLL is in process of responding to. [REDACTED] has also received over a dozen responses to an overture made to academics who teach courses on intelligence. Several have asked either [REDACTED] or briefer [REDACTED] to visit their campuses to make a presentation. We are coordinating all such requests so that 2-3 universities can be visited in one outing. This show of interest is the healthiest in years, both in terms of receptivity to a CIA visit and interest in the classroom. Unlike recruiters, who are often greeted by protesters, our faculty-sponsored visits are warmly received and seem highly effective. We are increasingly convinced that this program enhances the follow-up visits of CIA's recruiters.

+ A record number--600 people--turned out to hear John McMahon's address to the Baltimore Council on Foreign Affairs on 22 January. John earned high marks for his stimulating presentation and candor during the Q&A.
